

Greetings,

If I heard correctly, the presently used criteria used to evaluate applications for transmission lines and other utility capital investments are reliability, resilience and affordability..

What do you think about introducing a priority criteria for all energy related projects, that is, comparing the proposed transmission investment with non-wire alternatives using the degree of reduction of CO2 in the atmosphere, and then the traditional three criteria?

David Stanfield

J. David Stanfield, Town of Vermont, Dane County Wisconsin, Advisory Committee on Energy Planning

Email: jdstanfi@wisc.edu

Skypename: jdstanfi

Telephone: 1-608-767-3449

Cell: 1-608-556-0556

Vermont Web site: <http://www.vermonttownship.com/community/citizen-outreach>